Visit Union Museum

The Deanship of Student Affairs at Al Falah University organized a visit to the Union Museum in Jumeirah to learn about this vital and historical institution that preserves the history of UAE's founding fathers.

The museum staff welcomed the students and stressed their keenness to strengthen their relations with institutions of higher education. The museum is 25,000 square meters in size, the same location where the state was declared in 1971 with the building's design in the form of a document representing the Union's agreement.
