

Al Falah University participates in the World Summit for Tolerance

A delegation from Al Falah University participated in the second World Tolerance Summit held under the patronage of H.H. Sheikh Mohammed bin Rashid, UAE Vice President, Prime Minister and Ruler of Dubai.

The Summit aims to strengthen the UAE's position as a model of coexistence and cultural tolerance throughout the world by spreading the values of tolerance globally, supporting constructive dialogue among different nations, cultures and religions, emphasizing respect for fundamental principles of justice and human rights, and how to train and empower young people to practice and adopt a broad minded approach.

The President of the University, Prof. Belarbi, stated on this occasion that the UAE is the homeland of tolerance and coexistence, through its significant contributions that have achieved true convergence between cultures and peoples, by hosting more than 200 nationalities from all over the world.

Categories:

University News

World Summit for Tolerance