

OVERVIEW ON THE GUIDE

Al Falah University seeks to adhere to a set of conditions, precautionary measures and protocol in order to achieve a safe learning environment during the COVID 19 pandemic. The university relied on the document for operating educational facilities during the pandemic - the first edition.

In dealing with the requirements and procedures in various fields related to the educational learning process. This handbook included some key points about the university environment and maintaining a safe and healthy environment. many dimensions related to students, such as signing students to acknowledge the pledge and standards of appropriate behavior in the university, such as wearing face masks, maintaining a safe distance, staying away from gatherings, following up informative panels and awareness programs, contacting the university in case of infection with the virus COVID 19 or contact with a person infected with it. As indicated in this handbook, the role expected of the staff and faculty members.