Al Falah University's Commitment to Scientific Research

To ensure that we keep up with evolution Al Falah University organized a workshop for the academic members focusing on the importance and professional relevance of scientific research. The workshop has been titled "Al Falah University's Commitment to Scientific Research". In a series of two presentations the faculty members were further enlightened with the validity of scientific research and the extent of AFU's commitment for its perusal. The training workshop was conducted by the Chancellor of the University, Dr Noor Atatreh and Director of Quality Assurance and Institutional Research Unit, Dr. Amjad Nasser.

Dr Dr Noor Atatreh addressed the members and informed that the university is working hard on the development of scientific research and encouraged them to accelerate their efforts. He explained that the University has laid a criteria for the acceptance of scientific research, that is, all the researches must be published on SCOPUS database.

In the second part of the workshop the Director of Quality Assurance and Institutional Research, Dr. Amjad Nasser, explained the importance of statistical packages "SPSS" and the appropriate handling strategies for the data collected. Dr. Amjad also touched on the subject of Quantitative Data Analysis through the analysis of a study on "Quality in Education . "
